

OCTOBER 18–21, 2009 • THE SAGAMORE, BOLTON LANDING, NY

“ Partnering with Santé annually for the Santé Restaurant Symposium has been very beneficial to The Perfect Puree of Napa Valley. The symposium’s intimate setting, relaxed atmosphere and depth of participants has allowed us to build and sustain lasting relationships with world-class chefs and mixologists, as well reach potential customers for our premium purees and concentrates. The Symposium is the ideal forum to connect people with common interests in food, wine, and drinks.”

—Dana Bruner, director of sales operations,
The Perfect Purée of Napa Valley

“ The Santé Restaurant Symposium was a great place for us to introduce our products to the right people in the foodservice world. This was our first year at the Santé Restaurant Symposium, and we will be back! The [instruction], the people, and the food were all well worth the trip.”

—Molly O’Loughlin, brand communications manager,
Irish Dairy Board Inc.

“ The Santé Symposium provided us with an opportunity to introduce Tea Forté to an enthusiastic audience committed to providing the best-in-class to their guests. The venue was beautiful, the Santé staff responsive, and the attendees enthusiastic decision makers.”

—Jane Whitman, Tea Forté

“ The Santé Restaurant Symposium is a gem—a great opportunity to network and exchange information with industry professionals in a stimulating atmosphere.”

—Marilyn Krieger, PhD., director of public relations,
Winebow Inc.

“ For the highest level of knowledge, networking, and ideas—if you must choose only one event—this is the one to pick.”

—Lee Jones, owner, The Chef’s Garden
